

Now indexed in

MLA (Modern Language Association of America), USA
www.mla.org

- The Modern Language Association of America, often referred to as the Modern Language Association (MLA), is the principal professional association in the United States for scholars of language and literature.
- Founded in 1883 and having 25,000 members in 145 countries primarily academic scholars, professors, and graduate students who study or teach language and literature, including English, other modern languages, and comparative literature.
- Although founded in the United States, with offices in New York City, the MLA's membership, concerns, reputation, and influence are international in scope.
- The MLA International Bibliography, the most widely distributed humanities database, is the preeminent reference work in the fields of literature, language, linguistics, folklore, ethnomusicology, and teaching.
- The bibliography lists over 2.4 million citations, and is available online worldwide.
- Most North American and European higher-education institutions subscribe to the bibliography; it is used by a broad range of researchers – from high school students to senior scholars.
- The MLA Directory of Periodicals provides detailed information on over 6,000 journals and book series that cover literature, literary theory, dramatic arts, folklore, language, linguistics, pedagogy, rhetoric and composition, and the history of printing and publishing. Articles published in works listed in the directory are indexed in the MLA International Bibliography.

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the search results for the 'Shanlax International Journal of English' in the MLA Directory of Periodicals. The search was performed on EBSCOhost. The results page shows a 'Detailed Record' for the journal, including its scope, subjects, languages, publisher, and publication details.

Publication Name: Shanlax International Journal of English

Scope: Publishes work on theoretical, applied, interdisciplinary, thought history and methodological work, emphasizing realistic research, the production of critical viewpoints, the provision and use of empirical evidence. Serves, regardless of its theoretical and topical interests, as a genuinely international forum for all English language and literature scholars and students.

Subjects: English language; English literature; Comparative literature; Communication; English language teaching; English linguistics

Languages: English

Publisher: Shanlax Journals

Publication Details: Electronic ISSN: 2582-3531 ISSN: 2320-2645 Type: Journal
Year Began: 2012
Frequency: 4 times/year
Circulation: 500
Pagination Across Issues: Separate
Alternate Media
Available in Microform: No
Available in print and electronically

Screen Shot of Shanlax Int. J. of English listed in MLA Directory